Monthly Update

The Fund was up 0.37% in January.

(Source of all figures: FE Analytics)

UK equities began the year on a firm footing, with the FTSE 100 rising around 3% and pushing through new all-time highs, supported by defensives and commodity linked names amid stabilising domestic inflation.

Volatility remained elevated amid renewed tariff threats and geopolitical flashpoints which drove demand for metals, including gold and copper which supported the basic materials sector before a month end reversal in precious metals.

Eurozone equities also delivered positively in January, the top sectors being IT, energy and utilities, although turbulence wasn't avoided following President Trump's desire for for the US to acquire Greenland.

The Fund had one maturity. A structured note with Citigroup as counterparty, requiring the FTSE CSDI Index to be at least 5% higher on its first anniversary or higher than its initial level on any of the remaining seven anniversaries. The Index was at least 5% above, therefore the note matured returning 9.53% simple return.

As replacement the Fund purchased another structured note, also backed by Citigroup, but is linked to the FTSE CSDI and Euro Stoxx 50 Indices. At the end of the term the two indices must be no more than 10% lower than their respective initial levels for the note to successfully mature with a 10.75% simple return for each year held.

Projected Fund Performance (Not a reliable indicator of future results)

Whilst of course the figures in the table below should not be regarded as a reliable indicator of future results, they are an estimate of the performance over specific time periods for given market movements, based on the current holdings within the Fund and prices and index levels at the end of March.

FTSE 100 movement	-10%	-5%	0%	5%	10%
1 Year	2.51%	4.83%	6.43%	7.54%	8.31%
3 Years	13.29%	16.34%	18.43%	19.86%	20.85%

For example, if the FTSE 100 index is 5% up in 3 years, we expect the value of the Fund to rise by 19.86%.

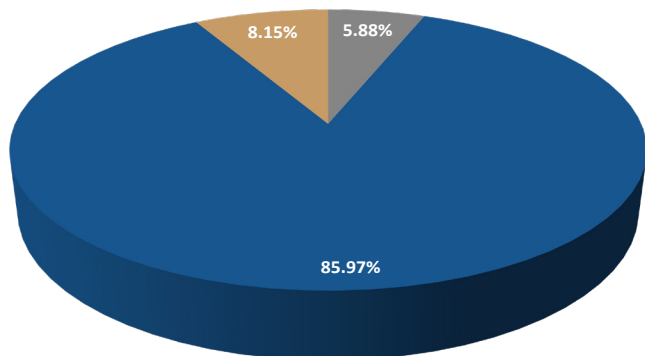

The scenarios presented are based on assumptions and are an estimate of future performance based on evidence from the past on how the value of this investment varies, and/or current market conditions and are not an exact indicator. There would be a difference between these figures and the actual performance, and what you will get will vary depending on how the market performs and how long you keep the investment/product. However, given that the Fund aims to provide capital growth over the medium to long term in rising, directionless or modestly falling UK equities markets, it is pleasing to see that these estimates suggest the Fund should do just that.
